* Omri comes to the throne in the 31st year of Asa [924 BC]. However, he rules for a total of 12 years, from 928 BC – 917 BC, beginning in the 27th year of Asa [1 Ki 16:15] and ending in the 38th year of Asa [1 Ki 16:29]. The 4 years that he rules from 27th to the 31st year of Asa is the time that he ruled over only ½ of Israel [1 Ki 16:21-22].

 Ahaziah's reign overlaps Ahab's reign a year or two, because he takes the throne in the 17th year of Jehoshaphat.

 Between the 23rd year and the 37th year of Joash's reign, there are only 14-15 years for Jehoahaz to reign, yet he has a 17 year reign – he must have reigned 2 years into Joash's reign in Israel

* Uzziah begins to reign in 810 BC. However, this does not reconcile with him beginning his reign in the 27th year of Jeroboam's reign in 798 BC. Evidently, Uzziah begins his reign when Jeroboam is 27 years old in 810 BC (his 27th year) rather than in the 27th year of his reign. [Note: Another explanation could be that the 12-year difference between 810 and 798 is the time that Uzziah served under the counsel of Zechariah (2 Chr 26:5) until the time of the leprosy that afflicted him (2 Chr 26:19-21)]

 From 784 -773 BC there is an interruption on the throne of Israel until the rule of Zachariah in the 38th year of Uzziah's reign
